Foreword

"Let there be light." God commanded and the darkness of the newly created world vanished in the midst of a heavenly brilliance. The works of nature responded to His call as well as man, who was given an inborn supernatural brilliance in which to bask. Yet when Satan offered man the opportunity of having a radiance equal to his Maker's he grasped at it, but instead of increased brightness his light was snuffed out by sin.

The Son of God later descended from heaven and with the flame of His divine love relit the candle in man's soul. His light was given to all who sought its warmth and to them He said this, "Poor indeed must thou be, if around thee thou no ray of light and joy canst throw."

Christ, through the Church, gives the flame of faith to each of His children at Baptism. This light, which is fed in part by the fuel of education, eventually is able to banish the darkness into obscurity. Central Catholic High School stands as a vessel which contains a part of the fuel by which the flame of faith is kept burning.

In this volume of the Centripetal the seniors will prove, that as different types of matter make up the flame of a candle, the different divisions of Central life shape the flame that burns within each student. Hundreds of seniors carrying this flame pass into the world each year dispelling, in a flood of light, the darkness of materialism.

Dedication

Among our many friends and advisors at Central, Reverend Michael Walz, who is outstanding for his wisdom, piety, and humility, has fanned the flame of hope in the hearts of all Centralites. His assistance and consolation has been a light guiding students onward on their path of duty.

Father Walz, who received his elementary schooling at St. John's, Defiance, Ohio, completed his education in Rensselaer, Indiana, St. Gregory Seminary, Cincinnati, and St. Mary's Seminary, Norwood, Ohio. Ordained by his Eminence Karl J. Alter June 15, 1935, he was appointed to St. Peter and Paul, Mansfield. Later, assigned to Immaculate Conception Parish, New York, he studied at Fordham and Columbia Universities. Upon his return to the diocese he served as principal at St. Wendelin High, Fostoria, for seven years until he was appointed assistant principal at Central Catholic, Toledo.

Within the space of two short years, Father, by his constant endeavor to uphold the highest Catholic ideals we treasure at Central, has embedded in our minds and hearts the true spirit of CCHS.

We hope the dedication of the 1952 edition of the Centripetal may be a fitting token of our appreciation and love to our loyal Confidant and teacher, Father Michael Walz.

Reverend Michael J. Walz, B.A.
Assistant Principal

Central—We, the seniors, find it difficult to express our gratitude to you who has filled four years of our lives with knowledge, happiness and memories. The hard type and immobile paper cannot display the emotions that fill us as we view in retrospect what is past. To you, we owe a deep and lasting debt—one that we may not fully realize at the moment but will when we have to apply to business and our private lives the lessons you have taught us in your classrooms.

We know that a school, because it is of brick and mortar, cannot remember us but as long as we keep the true spirit which is contained within your walls we will not be forgotten for we will still be a part of you, our Alma Mater.

To the classes that follow we bequeath the deep love and desire for achievement that has filled us and the seniors of the years before us. May each succeeding class add to your glory so that you may become for each and every Centralite a stepping stone to success as true sons and daughters of Christ the King-Patron of Central.

That the Light That Is In Thee be Not Darkness

Matt. 5-14

Classes

Life's Blueprint

The guiding light of our education Religion, is a required subject of four years. It does not remain however in that one period in which we study it day by day. It is carried into history classes, into science classes, into every class and organization of the school including athletic games and social activities. With the knowledge of religion we have an outlook on problems of history, moral problems and theories of today that learned professors who lack the faith to see the hand of God in all things do not have.

This spirit of Religion also exists in our relationships with members of the faculty and fellow students.

R. Irmen, R. Bohland, Fr. Wetzel, D. Strogowski, and L. Grisvard discuss teen-age religious problems.

The lighter side of Religion is shown by the smiles on the faces of R. Irmen, L. Bohland, and S. Tercek as they listen to Fr. Walz.

Our Mother Tongue

God gave man the power of communicating ideas, whether by physical, audible, or written symbols. The development of this ability is the aim of the English course which ranks as a compulsory subject because of its vital importance. The study of authors' ideas in literature in combination with grammar is taught for a three year period.

The freshman reads intensively "The Rime of the Ancient Mariner" and "Treasure Island."

The second year "A Tale of Two Cities" and "Julius Caesar" are studied.

Besides literature and grammar, the third year class are taught the whys and hows of the formal research essay.

In the final year the senior may choose, as an elective, English literature, public speaking, or journalism.

¿Habla Vd. Espanol?

The customs and the language of Spain are the two fields of labor upon which the students concentrate in the Central Spanish classes. With an understanding of both of these the pupil will be illuminated in his ability to understand the Latin and Spanish people. This year classes were given the special privilege of preparing a Christmas program for the parishioners of the mission Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe. Spanish, because of its many interesting activities, is one of the more popular subjects of Central.

Ici On Parlent Francais

It is through the French language that students are familiarized with an exciting and intriguing new way of life.

Practically, French is a means of communication as a useful key in business for the scholar and the professional man. It trains in precision, accuracy, definiteness clear thinking, and develops powers of appreciation.

Culturally it gives an insight into material, intellectual, and psychic way of life of other people. A study of this language places a new light on the glamour of French customs and ideals. A light which may later guide us to a so-wanted world peace by bringing us to a sympathetic understanding of these people and human problems.

Looking over the different objects that make up the activities of the French classes are: C. Loisel, M. Nassr, M. Lynch, J. Meranda, and J. Patterson.

Sprechen Sie Deutsch

When a student takes upon himself the task of studying the German language he will not only learn to read and write the language but he will study the customs, the geography of the area, the historical places, the industries, the natural resources, and the German's various forms of recreation. These German students gain the practice of forming German grammatical forms correctly. A number of songs and folk stories also make this class unusually interesting for every student.

Latinae Loquentur

Because of the predominant roll which it plays in the Catholic Church, Latin is taught extensively at Central Catholic. Other uses for this language of classical foundation are as a base for study in the preparation of law, medicine, and science.

Latin, the language of the Church and perhaps the most essential language of the world, is presented at Central in an extensive four year course. In the freshman year the basic principles are presented, while in the second year the young scholars delve into the Caesarian campaigns. Roman life, under Cicero's interpretation, is offered to the junior student. The Centralite, pursuing Latin during his last year, penetrates the work of Virgil. One who has completed this Latin course has gained a knowledge which few other courses are able to give.

Besides the main topics taken each year, the Latin classes take the annual Auxilium Latinum test given by the Association for the Promotion of the Study of Latin. In this test Central's rank has always been above the national median.

The Future's

Feeling the importance of history as a lamp to the stumbling feet of man, Central offers an extensive course to show her students the importance of this subject. Ancient history, national problems, modern and American history are the four courses which form the school's history department.

Ancient history gives the student an understanding of the origin of the elements inherited by present day civilization from past ages, while modern history follows this foundation of civilization and furnishes a background for the study of the history of our own country. The national problems course endeavor to present the problems of present day American living to the student so that he or she will be able to meet them intelligently. The study of American history and civics enables the student to understand America better, and helps him to be better equipped to perform his duties as an American citizen. Of these four, the State of Ohio, appreciating the importance of history, requires that the course in American history with an outline in civics be studied by all high school students.

The Modern

To acquaint students with the vast median of art is the primary purpose of the boys' art, "beauty in expression", classes. This course introduces to the disciple, poster design water and oil color, ceramics and photography. Under well trained instructors the young artists master the various spheres

The highlight of this year's course was the Catholic Deanery poster contest. Many Centralites, as a result of enthusiastic participation and awe-inspiring work, secured, for their accomplishments, awards for themselves and honor for their school.

Young Master Painters

The girls' art department aims to teach the students to realize the true beauty in everyday life and to express, on canvas, clay, or leather, these ideas.

Included in the four year course at Central are the experience of dress and poster designing, pen and pencil sketching, composition, color theory, lettering, etching, the use of theatrical makeup, oil and water color painting, needlework, weaving, and clay modeling.

This department plans its course to suit the interest of each student in this field.

Road of Precision

Mathematics at Central is studied by the student in several departments: general mathematics, business arithmetic, plane geometry, solid geometry, elementary algebra, advanced algebra, and trigonometry. The latter five are combined into an intensive four year course to prepare the student for future study of mathematics in college.

Plotting Industry

The drafting department aims to prepare the engineer of tomorrow. Because tomorrow holds many secrets, the student of engineering is called to discover them by pioneering in the advanced fields whose paths are uncharted. In order to do this he must know how to think because his only guides are the principles he has already mastered. His future work will depend on what he is today.

Nature's Principle

General science introduces the student to the mysteries of the physical world and gives slight knowledge of physics, chemistry, biology, and physiology.

The young scientist studies the nature of air, water, the sun, and other heavenly bodies. Electricity, and the essence and use of magnetism are also explored.

Information concerning this subject besides giving a back-ground for further scientific study helps the student to better adapt himself to his surroundings.

J. Chappuis, J. Deger listen as R. Benuregard, a future Edison, explains his theory.

Everyday Health

Better health through greater knowledge is the main goal of physiology. This aim is accomplished by offering the class through the study of (1) anatomy, knowing the human body; (2) general hygiene, keeping the body clean; and (3) first-aid, caring for an injured body.

Future doctors or dieticians will find in this class a foundation stone for their future work.

L. Smith, M. Veigel, G. Hicks, B. Jurkiewicz, B. Winters, P. Karavida, M. Minor, B. Olender learn the habits of good grooming.

Insect Hunters

The subject of biology deals with human organisms. Commonly understood it is the study of the general principles concerning the origin, development, structure, function, reproduction, and distribution of plant and animal life.

The course is planned so as to give the student a better knowledge of the interesting and fascinating things in nature. His study begins with the fundamental principles of life and goes on to the more complicated forms and mechanisms of nature.

Cornerstone of Science

"The science that we can't live without", would be a good description of physics, for its five major divisions—mechanics, heat, electricity, sound, and light, deal with almost everything that has an effect on man's life. The basic laws of these five divisions are studied. Their application, experiments, and examples are the ways in which the course is taught.

R. Clegg, R. Amborski, M. Solderer demonstrate the use of the bunsen burner. N. Montano shows T. Meehan a few chemistry tricks. Don't measure too much, M. Baker. Test tubes intrigue L. Vazquez. R. Irmen and B. Azbart are conscientious workers. M. Jurarez steadies the frame while J. Pigott clamps it

Today's Einsteins

Chemistry, the queen of sciences produces for man today, yesterday's impossibilities. Students majoring in this field are taught the fundamentals of organic and inorganic chemistry. The means for practical application, of the principles learned, are provided for by lab experiments performed twice a week.

Research on the lives of outstanding chemists and on such topics as atomic energy, fiberglass silicon, and other modern discoveries are on the students agenda in this class.

Culinary Artistry

Nothing can take the place of a warm, friendly, glowing lamp in the window of a home. The necessity of making the future of these lights positive is insured by the teaching of home economics. Food, nutrition, child care, sewing, good grooming, and home-furnishings are only a few of the homely duties taught in the home ec classrooms.

Learning these fundamentals is essential to every future homemaker. Applying them under the Christian way of life as taught by Christ, through Holy Mother Church, will enable each student to become the ideal homemaker.

Information Please?

The library is a source of information for all the students of Central. The freshmen receive training in how a library is used and the sophomores put this knowledge to use and look upon the library as a friend in need. The juniors have the library all to themselves for the traditional Junior Essay and the seniors with a complete understanding of the workings of the library put it to use for history essays, book reports, and scientific research.

Practical

The commercial department showers light on the many phases of work in this world of business which will require efficiency, neatness, and precision from the young moderns who are now being versed in the business arts.

The acquaintance with the proper methods of handling mail, telephone, electric typewriter and listing machine are presented to the student in office practice.

The occasion where Centralites are given the opportunity to emphasize mastery, accuracy, and speed is in the first and especially the second year typing classes where instructors stress job technique.

Art

In both the first and second year shorthand classes, students are required to master the intricacies of Gregg Shorthand with the building of transcription rate and phrasing.

Work in the business world pertaining to accounting is taught in the bookkeeping classes.

The geographical world is presented to the student in the economic geography classes where the trade and interests of foreign countries are emphasized.

Designed to develop an understanding and general knowledge of laws and relations are the commercial law courses which help the student acquire these fundamental principles and attitudes.

The Civics course stimulates an interest in the state and federal execution of laws which serve as a basis on which to place our judgments and convictions.

Those who have not been trained to concentrate actually hear a very small proportion of the music to which they listen. They get the outer crust of the rhythmic and melodic outlines, with a harmonic background unconsciously included. Many of them "know nothing about music, but know what they like."

In the Music Department, by a study of the worthwhile music of the masters of the past and the present time, or Music Appreciation, students are taught to be intelligent listeners. The course in "Approach to Harmony" aims to prepare the student to become sensitive to the harmonic beauties of music. This awakening comes not only through the development of a technical knowledge of harmony, but also from the stimulation of the musical imagination of the student.

Both courses, the Music Appreciation and the "Approach to Harmony" are two-year courses offered by the Music-Theory Department.

Organizations

Student Spiritual Council

The Student Spiritual Council constitutes one of the most important group of organizations in the school because it seeks to complete the education of the 'whole man' by developing the spiritual side of its members. The various committees all contribute to the development of Christian leadership in the student and prepare him to carry these ideals with him when he goes out into the world.

The committees composing the Student Spiritual Council are the St. John Berchmans, the Eucharistic Marian, the Literature, the Apostolic Committee, and the St. Hilda Guild.

"Some Books Are to be Tasted . . ."

J. Hannon, co-chairman; D. Zak, co-chairman; B. Konwerski, secretary; G. Kokocinski, treasurer, prepare the Literature committee's seat

The aims of the Literature Committee are to inspire every Centralite to read only the books that are recognized by critics as good, clean, decent, literature, and to provide guides to the better books.

Each year the junior representatives attempt to pledge every freshman to study only clean magazines and books.

A literary information bureau also helps the students to find decent periodicals and books with which to enjoy their spare time.

Young Missioners of Christ

B. McDaniels, secretary; D. Irmen, vice president; G. Kranz, president; J. Clabough, treasurer, discuss Apostolic committee plans.

The Apostolic Committee with its sale of Christmas seals and cards, as well as ransoming the highest number of pagan babies, set a new school mark in Central's mission work.

The members of this committee were trained during the summer at the school for Catholic Action. Their work this year showed the results of their knowledge.

Saint John Berchman society was organized to afford the young men of Central an opportunity to serve Mass and Benediction in the school's chapel. This branch of the SSC has existed for sixteen years and its main purpose is to promote religious vocations. Its members handle the liturgical duties of the annual May Convocation.

The Eucharistic-Marian organization attempts to instill a deeper love for Our Lady and her Divine Son by promoting frequent attendance at Mass and daily visits to the chapel. This committee furthers devotion to Mary by encouraging the student body to recite the rosary during the months of October and May. The major activity of this group: the May Convocation: the crowning Our Lady Queen of Central.

Ladies in Waiting

P. Driscoll, president; S. CaJacob, vice president; A. Daunhauer, secretary-treasurer.

The St. Hilda Guild is made up of the members of the art classes. Their duties are: clean cruets, attend to the upkeep of the sacristy, clean the vigil light stands, take care of the altar candles and prepare the altar.

To instill the value of study and PROPER career in the minds of Central students was the object of the Y.C.S. this year. By means of an orientation assembly which was held for the freshmen the first day of school, a "study week" and a career day, this plan was carried out.

Study week attempted to give the students a full realization of the importance of study to ready him for his future.

The biggest project was a "career day" on which all students heard lectures on the occupation in which they have an interest. These talks were given by prominent persons in each particular field.

Study Week attempted to give the students a full realization of the importance of education as a basic foundation for their future.

"Career Day" furthered the project by hearing speakers from the various walks of life explain their fields to the students.

The Orchestra

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Cucci, provided the music during each night of the Senior Play; and for the Music Festival. Highlighting their entire season was their appearance in the State Theater when they played for M'lle Modiste.

The Band, another section of the Music Department, bolstered the spirit during the half-time at football games besides entertaining the student body at assemblies and participating in the Memorial Day parade.

 and the Girls' Chorus of the Junior Red Cross

With a Song in My Heart

The performance of "M'lle Modiste" by the mixed chorus marked the apex of their program for this year. They were also invited to make recordings for the Junior Red Cross for use in foreign countries. Other activities of the Glee Club, along with the Freshman and Girls' chorus, included the Christmas program, special assemblies, and numerous civic programs.

School News

The thirty-second volume of the Centric, under the leadership of the two journalism classes, brought to the student body the news, sports, and activities of Central and other schools throughout the world, while also disclosing interesting activities in the city, itself.

The Centric is edited and published by the journalism classes and financed by student subscriptions and solicited advertisement. Since 1920 it has been published fourteen times a year. For one issue the junior class is allowed to experience the thrill of putting out a paper and to gain experience for the senior year when they publish the Junior Centric.

Wielding the Gavel

The students' voice in the government of the school is the Student Council. The members are its four officers, the commissioner appointed for tax stamps, merit, social activities, publicity, traffic, and justice, the class officers, the presidents of the recognized school organizations the editors of the school publications, and a representative from each conference room.

The Council aims to promote a unity between the student body and the administration for the well being of the students.

Torch Night, the Talent Assembly, Tag Day the Prom, the various drives and school dances are some of the activities sponsored by the Student Council.

Treasure of Memories

Through all the operations of writing, taking pictures, editing copy, correcting galleys, pasting dummies, proofreading page proofs, and other activities the Centripetal staff was motivated by one purpose: to provide an annual which would be a treasure and a pride to all students as well as a store-room of memories. The staff feels that it has accomplished this and with pride presents this the thirty-second edition of the Centripetal.

Sports

Coach P. McCarty runs through plays for fellow mentors, L. Bondy, J. Kurzynske, and P. O'Rourke.

The Coaching Staff

MR. PATRICK McCARTY Coach McCarty began coaching at Central in 1943. He was called into the services in 1944. After two years of Army life he coached football at St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Iowa.

He returned to Central in 1947 and took over as athletic director as well as football coach. This is Mr. McCarty's eighth coaching year at Central, and his team helped him celebrate by taking the city co-championship.

MR. LAWRENCE BONDY. During the past six years his basketball teams have compiled a record of 157 victories as against 24 losses. His teams have gone to the state basketball finals twice, once in 1949 when they lost in the finals and this year losing in the quarterfinals. His teams have never ended lower than second place in city league competition. This year he shared the city championship with DeVilbiss High.

MR. JAMES KURZYNSKE Mr. Kurzynske was graduated in 1949 from Notre Dame University with a B.A. degree and has completed his third year as lightweight basketball and football coach. His football team ended the season with a two win three loss record this year. The basketball team won ten while losing seven.

MR. PAUL O'ROURKE. Coach O'Rourke, a graduate of Central in 1938, and Dayton University in 1942 is ending his sixth year as freshman mentor. This season's "baby frosh" lost all their football games but the basketball team conquered in seven out of twelve games.

This year's football squad, under the direction of Coach Patrick McCarty, marched to its second co-championship city league crown. The team won all of its city games except for a heartbreaking loss to Waite.

Along with the many awards the team achieved as a unit there were several individual honors to various players. The Blade awarded first team honors to James Rahman, Arnold Ludwig, Joseph Amstutz, Joseph Mouch, Richard Keller; second team honors to Robert Dame. The Times recognized James Rahman, Robert Dame, Richard Keller, and Arnold Ludwig as first string performers with James Holmes, Edward Gliatti, Joseph Amstutz, and Donald Hanley deserving second team honors. The Wig Wam of America nominated Richard Keller as All American. James Rahman was awarded a spot on the North-West All-Star Team.

Girls' Athletic League

Completing its 22nd year in existence the G.A.L. has reached its goal of creating sportsmanship, as well as encouraging social and athletic activities among the girls.

The gym classes are instructed in various sports such as tennis, baseball, shuffle board, modern dancing, ping pong and basketball.

Competitive teams are organized in the sports of swimming and bowling.

To those who have participated in activities, letters and chevrons are awarded in recognition of the work they have done for the G.A.L.

C. Rihacek, president; C. Pinkelman, treasurer; J. Yost, bowling league secretary; S. Flynn, secretary; R. Volz, vice-president

Mary Reno about to crown the Blessed Virgin Queen of Central

May Convocation

The annual May Convocation is an event of the school year long remembered and treasured because of its simple beauty, respectful tone, and lasting impression.

Although Mary wears no regal robes, carries no sceptre, and wears no ornate jeweled crown, she remains Queen and Patroness of all Central's students and is crowned by the entire student body in the hands of one, because she is their Heavenly Mother.

Her light of beauty and grace is blinding, but a source of comfort and refuge for all her loving children.

In the light of Central Joan Urbanowicz and Donald Sniegowski, symbols of the graduates, smilingly gl into the future.

Graduation

The loving light of Central follows after Joan Urbanowicz and Donald Sniegowski, symbols of the whole Senior Class, as they take their first steps out into the world. They leave smiling and their feet take strong confident steps in the face of a menacing world. This lightness of heart and strength of character they owe to Central, who has shed her light into the black and evil nooks of the world that they are about to walk into, unafraid.

AFTER GRADUATION???

Suppose you are postponing further academic learning and are going to work. Have you chosen your field of endeavor? Are you considering the places where you will look for work? Have you considered L O-F? What do those letters mean?

L stands for Libbey in the corporate name Libbey-Owens-Ford. But 'L' in L O-F also stands for Loyalty. The company recognizes this by annually paying honor to scores of people with more than 25 years of company service.

O stands for Owens. But "O" in L O-F also stands for Opportunity. There are many versions of opportunity in L O-F. A former mailboy is a traffic executive, another is high on the ladder in the purchasing department. A former accountant has become an officer of the company.

F stands for Ford. In L-O-F, this letter also can stand for "Friends" because you have many friends when you work in L-O-F. It also can identify two of the company's products—flat glass and Fiber-Glass.

LET'S MAKE IT A PARTY!

Whether it's a last picnic, a trip to an athletic event, a sight-seeing tour, or a more formal occasion, when you charter a bus you permit everyone to enjoy the trip from the time you leave until you are safely home Expensive? No, indeed. On the contrary you will find that compared with other forms of travel, Chartered Service is very reasonable.

It is not only a privilege to use their life span to benefit all generations to come after them . . . Such was the gift of Thomas Alva Edison, pioneer in applying electricity to better the lot of mankind.

We are proud to bear his name

• Over a decade ago, the Edison Company may use the name "Edison" as part of its corporation. It is the only company in the Edison Company's history that has been granted this right. It is a privilege to bear the name of a man whose life was devoted to the betterment of the world.

My dear friend
 I have been thinking of you a great deal lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are well and happy. I shall be glad to hear from you again to know how you are getting on.

Dear Joan
It's really been a swell knowing you
these past two years.
I only hope that continue to be a good friend of yours.
Best of luck because you really deserve the best.
God bless you.
